4th Sunday in Ordinary Time

A man thought that he could find his happiness in this world, so he went after the things of this world. Only to find out later that worldly happiness was not the key to real happiness.

Jesus, in our gospel, gives us the eight Beatitudes. What is the meaning of beatitude? It means happiness, not according to the definition of this world but happiness according to the interpretation of Jesus.

How do we interpret happiness? Do we interpret it according to the standards of this world? For example, many of us have this mindset of finding happiness in the accumulation of money, power and having everything that this world can offer. But these are not the key to real happiness.

Let us seek our happiness and fulfilment in Jesus and according to the eight beatitudes which He gave us and we will surely find it. For Jesus has not refused anyone who seeks to find his/her happiness in Him and His teachings. Let us try to reflect on these pronouncements of Jesus about the beatitudes. For in Jesus and His beatitudes we will find real happiness. Where does our happiness lie right now?

PRAYER for the WEEK – PRAYER TO SAINT BLAIE – PETITION – CURE FROM ILLNESS

St Blaise, Bishop and lover of souls, during your life you willingly bore many crosses in faithful imitation of the suffering Jesus Christ. Similarly, with Christ-like compassion and the grace of God, you miraculously cured many sufferers of their ills and humbly accepted the tortures inflicted upon you at the time of your death, dying as a Martyr for Christ. Now in your heavenly home, I come before you and humbly ask for your intercession before the throne of God. St Blaise, seek for me a cure for... (Name the illness) ... If it is not God's will or the greater good of my soul, ask God to grant me the strength to bear my cross patiently, in imitation of Jesus Christ our Crucified Saviour, as reparation for my sins and the salvation of souls. Amen.
